

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

CHAS. W. REACHMAN, Editor.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1889

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A live and growing city of 5,000 inhabitants, situated in a county of 40,000. The Louisville and Nashville has two lines of railroad in the county. The largest tobacco growing county in the world. Wheat, corn, hay, coal, live stock and fruits produced for export in large quantities. The city has four banks with an aggregate capital of $1,000,000. A planing mill and wagon factory, three carriage factories, lime factory, tobacco manufacturing, two foundries, three brick yards, broom factory, glass, lumber, ice factory, two large flouring mills in the city and several in the county. Splendid driving park and fine opera house. Five turnpikes centering in Hopkinsville. Building and Loan Association, Commercial Club, a telephone exchange, numbered streets and houses and city lighted by gas. Macadamized streets and brick sidewalks all over the city. Eleven churches, two colleges, a high school and the finest system of public schools, white and colored, in the State. Western Kentucky Lumber Association with a population of 500, two miles east of the city. A 100,000 acre tract with town clock in the dome. A fine fire department and a company of State Guards. Little River furnishes an adequate supply of water for all purposes. Heat, coal and roads cheap. Fine opening for woolen mill, pork packing establishment, fruit canner, tannery and many other enterprises. Climate mild and invigorating and exceedingly healthful.

Booth and Modjeskas are playing a joint engagement in Pittsburg this week to crowded houses.

Maryland Democrats have nominated Victor L. Baughman for Controller, the only state officer to elect this year.

The first number of the Tri-Weekly Mayfield Democrat appeared this week. It is small but new and readable.

A. C. Poole, editor of a paper at Robelia, La., and Lee C. Alpin, sheriff of the parish, engaged in a shooting affray Monday and both were killed.

The public debt statement again shows an increase of $13,085,004.35 for the month of September. It seems Tanner was not responsible for all the ride on the Treasury.

The new Grand Theatre in Evansville will be opened by Emma Abbott's Opera Company Oct. 17, 18 and 19. All the railroads will give excursion rates. The fare will be $2.50 for the round trip from this city.

An eastern syndicate is arranging to build a new $3,000,000 hotel in Louisville, near the corner of Seventh and Main, which will be the finest hotel in the South, with the possible exception of the Ponce de Leon, at St. Augustine, Fla.

Miss Dolly Higbee, the accomplished writer of social chat for the Courier Journal, has written a novel of Kentucky life, appropriately called "In God's Country." The novel will appear soon in Belford's Magazine—Owensboro Inquirer.

"Daniel Quip" is the name assumed by his theatrical enterprises by Mr. W. F. Norton, of Louisville. "Cap. Norton," as he is familiarly known, is said to be the richest young man in Kentucky, being worth a million or more. The name of "Daniel Quip" was assumed during his father's lifetime and the old gentleman, Mr. W. F. Norton, Sr., who was opposed to theatres, died in ignorance of the fact that his son was one of the best-known and most successful theatrical managers in Louisville. The Booth and Barrett Festival, his latest undertaking, was in point of attendance an entire success, the vast auditorium being well filled at every performance. Mr. Norton's next movement will be to secure the world-famed Patti to fill an engagement in his auditorium during the season now opened.

The counting of votes cast in the Constitutional convention matter has been completed. There were 296,700 registered voters and 180,281 were cast for the call. The negative and silent votes counted against the call are 110,419, making the majority for the call 63,682. The vote for the convention is a clear majority of the votes cast in the Presidential election last year, which was the largest vote ever polled in the State. According to the assessors' reports for 1888, the actual number of legal voters in the State is 380,156. A majority of these would be 190,078, or 9,798 more than were cast for the call. This is the only pretext upon which the Legislature could defeat the convention bill and it is not likely that a majority of the members would attach any serious importance to this question if raised by the opponents of the convention. The assessors' reports are based on the claims of voters themselves and many of them must be illegal, while it is safe to say thousands disqualify themselves every year by moving their places of residence. We will have the new constitution.

Cataract Can't be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal remedies. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surface. Hall's Cataract Cure is no quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in the country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifier, acting directly on the mucous surface. The perfect combination of the two ingredients results in curing cataract. Send for testimonials free.

FAIRVIEW.

Mule Stolen—Firm Changes—A Death—Other Matters.

FAIRVIEW, Ky., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Lucy Hancock died at her husband's home on the 28th ult. She had been confined to her bed some time with consumption.

There is a great deal of sickness in this neighborhood. Mr. G. W. Lindley has been quite sick, but is, I am glad to say, improving now.

Mr. Emory Roper and family, of South Christian, are visiting relatives near here.

Miss Nora B. Mason, of Pee Dee, is on a visit to Mrs. Lee Hancock this week.

Mr. Wines, of Fairview, had a mule stolen from his pasture one day last week. It is expected that some one wanted a ride. Mr. C. H. Harrison lost one in this way and found it near Elkton.

A great deal of interest is being taken in the protracted meeting at the Christian church near here.

Mr. J. W. Moody has gone to Louisville on business.

Mr. W. H. Elgin has purchased Col. John Pye's interest in the dry goods house of Pye, Moody & Co., Fairview. The new firm will be Elgin, Moody & Co.

BEMBLE HEE.

LONGVIEW.

LONGVIEW, Ky., Oct. 1.—Farmers are very busy cutting corn and tobacco, and sowing wheat. We think there is very good prospects for a large crop of wheat next season.

Mrs. Em. Carter, of Trigg county, is visiting Mrs. Horace Buckner.

Miss Mary Clardy, a charming young lady of Bell's, Ky., was in the city Sunday, accompanied by Mr. Edwin Cross.

Mr. Buck Radford and daughter, Miss Annie, have been quite ill for the last two weeks, but are improving.

Mrs. E. C. Griffin and little son have been down with chills for the last week or ten days.

J. H. Bradshaw and John Biane have a second crop of June apples. We do not know for certain that this statement is true we only have their word for it.

J. Q. and R. S. McGeehe passed through Sunday, on their way to Clarksville.

Miss Mary Radford, of your city, was the guest of Miss Edna Radford a few days last week.

Mr. W. B. Radford had three of his dogs killed by some mischievous fellow last week. Why not keep up the good work until all the dogs are dead.

Miss Lula Carter is attending school at Russellville this year.

Dr. W. B. Radford, of this place, is making his headquarters at Allensville, Ky., and McGeehe Bros. have his old office here filled with furniture and coffins.

Miss Patti Garrett, who has been visiting relatives in New Providence, for the last three weeks, returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. John Gregory, of Church Hill, has rented the McKee farm this year, and is preparing to put in a large crop of wheat.

SAMBO.

PEE DEE.

PEE DEE, Oct. 1.—Sickness and death are still abroad in the land. The victims are both old and young, the old must die, and the young may die.

We are sorry to chronicle the death of our old and esteemed friend, Mr. Thomas Campbell, near Roaring Springs. Mr. Campbell was quite old and a confirmed invalid for months before his death. He was a member of the Christian church, a kind neighbor and devoted father. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved family.

Floyd, the little son of Mr. Less Gilliam, died Friday, Sept. 20th. We extend to the bereaved parents our sympathy in this their trial of life.

Mr. Thomas Crenshaw while trying to get on his horse last Sunday lost his footing and fell to the ground; the shock was such that he lay for several hours where he fell before being discovered by the family. He is very badly hurt.

Par's Boy.

Children Enjoy The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the father or mother be constipated or bilious, the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known, and every family should have a bottle.

The Century Magazine closes its nineteenth year with a number for October which, besides its leading serials on Lincoln and Siberia and the Old Masters, contains several papers of peculiar importance. One of these is a study of "Moliere and Shakespeare," by the eminent French comedian M. Coquelin accompanied with a frontispiece portrait of Moliere as Caesar, and a portrait of Coquelin as Moliere.

Another striking paper, "Reminiscences of the Heretics," is by the celebrated American astronomer, the late Maria Mitchell. With the latter article is a portrait of Miss Mitchell, and a picture of her last observatory, at Lynn, Massachusetts. Miss Brackett has an appreciative "Open Letter" on Miss Mitchell in the same number.

Warren and Marion county Democrats held primaries last Saturday and nominated county tickets to be voted for August 1893. In some other counties similar action was taken at the time of the last August election and the candidates nominated a full year ahead.

The Concert Monday Night.

I agree with England's noble old Queen, that when one derives pleasure from the efforts of others to please, "to say so." The large and appreciative audience that filled the Opera house on Monday night, the occasion of Mrs. M. E. Vickers' concert, was in hearty sympathy with the sentiment.

Mrs. Vickers not only sustained her reputation as a superior vocalist, but as an advanced teacher of a high order. The fine control of voice and elegant bearing on the stage imparted to her pupils in so short a time, established this beyond a doubt.

In her own numbers of the program, the true artist shows in every phase. The easy transition of style with which she passed from the operatic selection "Ernani Involami," to a sprightly, coquettish little song of Bischoff's, which she gave as an encore, was particularly pleasing. She has a pure tone and very flexible soprano voice of fine compass, and her trills were so beautiful as to justify what has been claimed by her critics—that in trilling she has no superior.

Her presence in our midst would soon revolutionize musical affairs. To thank Prof. Reibert in fitting terms for his contribution to the enjoyment of the evening, the old Queen would have to lend us her poet laureate. The glorious tones of his violin suggest nothing short of heaven, and awaken a longing for the perfection of harmonies of which they are a prophecy.

Miss Steinhagen's superior skill as an accompanist was a notable feature of the occasion. Her thorough musical knowledge, fine technique, and ready tact fit her peculiarly for the position. She would do well to make it a profession.

A FRIEND.

Clothing Men.

Prominent among the clothing dealers of the city is the firm of Pye, Dicken & Wall, who are just now receiving their fall stock of these goods in connection with boots, shoes, hats and gents' furnishing goods. Capt. Jno. Pye, who is still in the East making large purchases in bargains, has already shipped to this city and at prices so low that they will be within the grasp of all. Each member of the firm is an experienced business man, Capt. Pye having been in the wholesale and retail clothing business for many years, Mr. Dicken in the retail business for ten years and Mr. Wall was for several years a merchant at Caledonia. With their business capacity, experience and capital they are bound to enjoy a very liberal share of the public patronage.

Mr. Robt. Green, the polite and clever salesman, is also with them and would like to show his friends through the new fall stock, whether they wish to buy or not.

The New States.

The elections in the four new States Tuesday were quiet and orderly. The Republicans seem to have had things pretty much their own way.

In North Dakota the entire Republican State ticket, headed by Miller for Governor, is elected by 5,000 majority. Hansbrough, for Congress, has 7,000 majority. The Legislature is Republican three to one. The Democrats elect three of the six district judges.

In South Dakota the Republican ticket was elected by about 10,000 majority. Pierre seems to be ahead on the capital question and prohibition has probably carried. The Legislature is Republican.

Washington goes Republican by 8,000 and the Legislature is four to one the same way. Olympia appears to have the Capital. Prohibition and woman suffrage are both defeated.

In Montana, Toole, Democrat, is elected Governor and the Legislature is Democratic by one majority. Carter, Republican, is elected to Congress. The Republicans concede nothing as yet.

A great many false statements are being made about the prevalence of diphtheria in this city. There is no epidemic of diphtheria here and no danger of any. There have been a few cases, which have been reported in the papers, but the physicians deny that some of these cases were diphtheria and some of them even contend that there has not been a case in the city. At present there are three or four cases, all getting well, and nobody is alarmed about a spread of the disease. Two of these cases were within a few yards of the public school building, at Peter Postell's, and the school board thought it best to suspend the school for a few days, which was done Monday. This is the true state of affairs and there is no danger in anyone coming to town.

Excellence of Grain, Perfection of Water, Expert Knowledge of all the best Methods of Distillation, Extensive Experience, Abundant Capital, Complete and Expensive Equipment and High Purpose, all these are used in the making of HARPER'S NELSON COUNTY, KY., WHISKY, for which we have secured the sole agency.

EDMUNDSON & LONG,

Hopkinsville, Ky.

The Winchester Democrat exposes this bomb among the married people of an eastern county:

"On account of some informality in the books, it is said that not a single marriage that has been performed in Knox county since its organization is legal."

The Democrats have nominated

Wm. E. Russell for Governor of Massachusetts.

"Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "I have used Ayer's Pills for several years, and I think they are the best pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. I have taken Ayer's Pills, and I have been free from all these complaints."

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me for several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient Rheumatism."

No medicine could have served me in better stead."—C. C. Rock, Corner, Ayer's Pills, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. I have taken Ayer's Pills, and I have been free from all these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. I have since taken them several times without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

ALWAYS BEHIND HAND.

An Exasperating Habit Which Causes Much Irritation and Discomfort. Numbers of good people are spoiled by their habit of being behind hand. For it is a habit, and it can be overcome by a little will, and a good deal of perseverance.

We have noticed that a man who is always punctual, usually is married to a woman who is never quite ready, and vice versa, and nobody knows, or will know, till the clock strikes the final winding up, how much mental and moral wear and fret there is about such a union.

These every-day martyrs are so common that nobody notices them, and yet it surely must be easier to die once at the stake, seeing as all have got to die some way, than to live on for fifty years—three hundred and sixty-five days and six hours to a year—with a "partner" who is never quite ready, but who is going to be "in just a few minutes."

The punctual woman has her meals ready on the stroke of the clock; and her unpunctual husband knows that they will be ready, but he stops, and does a little job of work that might as well have been left till afterward, and the potatoes get cold, and the breakfast tastes like tough leather in consequence.

The man who is on time has to sit round drumming his fingers on the window-pane, and fidgeting the curtain pull, and making himself disagreeable generally, waiting while the unpunctual wife gets things on the table, and wonders what does make men folks so fidgety.

And the man suffers a small martyrdom while he is waiting, and if he does not wear out, it put it down to his credit, or, recurring angel.

An unpunctual person never can conceive what a trial it is to a punctual one to have to wait, and wait, for what could just as well have been attended to on time.

You are going somewhere at ten o'clock. You tell your wife to be ready at that time. You hurry to keep your appointment, and you keep it. She knows that you will. But she thinks there is plenty of time. People who are invariably behindhand always think there is time enough. That is the rock they stumble on. You come home and find her not ready. But she tells you reasonably that she has only got to change her dress and comb her hair, and see about dinner, and it will only take a few minutes. And by bitter experience you know that it will take a good hour to accomplish all these things.

Of course you feel, and you keep calling out up the stairway to hurry what in the dickens she is about, and you tell her that you could have built the City of Jerusalem in the time she has been combing her hair and getting into another dress, and you get out of doors, and stamp about in the yard to pass the time away, and you resolve that the next time you will not go to anywhere with her, you won't ask her.

So we say to all our friends, do try and be ready when the time is ready comes. It would save so much discomfort, so much irritation, so much friction and fret. And it is just as easy after you make up your mind to it.

Try it—try it in earnest—ye who are always behindhand, and see if we are not right.—N. Y. Weekly.

THE ENGLISH MAIDEN.

A Couple of Advantages. She possesses two points of advantage the English girl possesses over the American girl, and these are precisely the qualities that particularly appeal to men; she is more romantic and more submissive. While as full of sentiment as the ideal love letters told with blue ribbon, she rarely dreams of disputing the supremacy of husband, father, or even brother, and her privilege and pleasure is to minister unto them. She is so affectionate in her home circle that the average man has only to be admitted there to straightway fall head over heels in love with a girl who worships her brother, is forever kissing her fond father, and disputes with her sisters the honor and the delight of warming the paternal slippers. Even when of "high station" she takes her turn in making the tea and preparing the toast, and superintending the breakfast generally—a task which many a demure and demure daughter of the English girl breathes this engaging air of domesticity. Man doesn't say: "How she can wait; how well she looks at the opera; how she surpasses all of the other girls in the cotillion!" No matter to what advantage she may appear in evening dress under the soft caresses of the bachelors, what the most inveterate bachelor whispers to himself is this: "By George! what a wife she would make! And what a home!"—Boston Herald.

Two ranchmen named Wilson recently captured six lions out of a herd of fifty or more on Red Desert, Wyo. They were offered five hundred dollars each for the animals, but demanded more.
